

PASSION

I believe story is “First Food” — a term I’ve created to name a substance so powerful, it supercedes edible sustenance: a material so potent, it shapes both heart and mind. • I believe human beings are hard-wired for story: pre-programmed for transformation by archetype, narrative, and the expansion of our imaginations. In this way, I believe a culture’s storytellers are its shamans — conjurers who hold the power, and deep responsibility, to weave stories that serve the soul and psyche: stories that excite and inspire, narratives that connect and unite, magic that shifts both culture and consciousness.

Storytelling is my passion. The magnetic north of my personal compass. As a shamanic storyteller, I’m honored to harness its formidable power for the good of the collective, and the nature that sustains us all.

I am a warrior communicator who wields the sword of story with conscious intention — for hope in our darkest hour; inspiration anchored in possibility; solutions that benefit the many instead of the few.

PURPOSE

I’m driven to build a new cultural mythology. A bold transformative vision of the world we wish to create. A spellworking that illuminates not what we are fighting against, but what we are standing for.

As artists, activists, and rEvolutionaries, we dance with darkness in every creative act. When we weave dark into light, our offerings become an invitation. To wake up. To see. To understand. And to change.

In the brief span of the Anthropocene, this work — our Work — has never been so urgently needed: the fate of a habitable planet hangs in the balance. As the old world falters, a new one must be born. As toxic structures collapse, new ones must take form. As destruction clears a space, so we must fill that space — with consciousness. Intention. A vision of the world we can together co-create: an intersectional new beginning built upon a declaration of interdependence with all that exists around us.

This work is the realm of the Sacred Feminine. The vital counterpart to rampant innovation, She is the force that demands awareness of a far more expansive whole. Hers is the mind open to Great Mystery; the heart that asks Why? and For Whom? • For too long, we’ve been slaves to a narrow How? A worldview controlled by the Wounded Masculine that plunders rather than sustains; that craves power over rather than power with. Innovation without ethics, gain without give-back, How without Why is the tyranny of ruin. And so, from ruin, a new world must take shape. In the dust of our own destruction we must conjure a new foundation. One rooted in humility, reverence, curiosity, acceptance, equity, inclusion, awe, and wonderment: the realization that all things are one thing, and none of us outside of it. • Now is the time for a new collective dreaming. A local and global collaboration guided by the sacred Sovereign She — a mighty force dwelling within each of us regardless of our gender, age, race, or identity. Now is the time for Her triumphant return.

We are all creators: fragile beings of massive power. What we envision — what we imagine — we create, individually and collectively. I seek to bring that power into manifestation. To make the consciously imagined real. I am here to reforge community; to reawaken connection; to craft a new map for a new world.

This is the work that sets my soul on fire.
